

LOGO USE

The logo should always be placed with white space (x-space) equivalent to at least the height of the vertical line “|” in the logotype.

It's important, when pairing the DC Health logo with other logos, to maintain the x/white space buffer around and between the logos.

Correct amount of white space between logos

Incorrect amount of white space between logos - too close

Logo Size

The full logo should not be presented at a size smaller than one inch wide unless an exemption is approved by the director of the Office of Communications and Community Relations.

